

and abducted from my custody without warning, reason, due process, or having been given a Miranda warning. Ms. Harvick was so verbally abusive that she went so far as to bring in George, my mother's husband who has a good relationship with Julian, because she said she wanted him to see me have to cry because, in her words, "I chose to put my son in foster care instead of letting him go with Uncle Brian" (who she had clearly ruled out as an option, anyway). Ms. Harvick even tried to tell me my son has ^{g.o.o.s.} asthma. My son hasn't had to take any medication for anything since 2008 or 2009 and was never given an official diagnosis for asthma. Perhaps Ms. Harvick was counting on her additional four or six thousand ($4,000-$6,000.00) per child/per diem bonus for adopting out a child with a pre-existing condition.

During all of this chaos, a young girl arrived about the same time Officer Elton was laughing in the hallway of the CPS Office with a couple police officer buddies while checking his mobile device or something attached to his belt that he kept looking at as he went out of his way to draw attention to his words that, "I wonder who that could be," "I didn't call anyone." The girl concurrently served me with a subpoena and citation with temporary restraining order from Petitioner, Matthew James Worrell (one of Mr. Worrell's favorite legal ploys to harass and humiliate myself and my son) that included ludicrous, false allegations that were almost word-for-word the same allegations that had proved untrue when he utilized the same tricks in 2007 to try to legally kidnap my infant son whose birth he had not even attended despite the fact he never denied or expressed doubt
